DRAYTON VALLEY SCHOOL STAFF READY.

With the 1958-59 school year to start right after Labor Day, Drayton Valley will begin with almost a full staff, at the time of writing there are still two vacancies but they may be filled by the time school opens next week.

Mr. T. McManus will fill the position of Junior and Senior High School principal with grades seven to twelve.

In the Elementary School Mr. John Gray, formerly principal at Stewieville, will be principal for grades one to six.

Following is the list of teachers in both schools, announcement will be made of the grades each will teach in next weeks paper.

High School: T. M. Manus, V. Kupchenko, Olie Kupchenko, C.I. Moody, William Glas, Mrs. Alice Glass, Roger Murray, Mrs. Peggy Arkininstall, Miss S. Holmes, Philip Gypalluk, and Jack Hackman, with one vacancy yet to be filled.

Elementary School: J. Gray, Mrs. Zetta MacRae, Mrs. E. Brown, Mrs. G. Wolschlagier, Mrs. Emily Lewinuk, Miss Mary Judge, Miss B. Giddings, Mrs. Elva Bullen, Miss C. Pedorus, Mrs. S.J. Koebarnik, Miss Vera Kos, Mrs. A. Kupchenko, Mrs. Olga Palmer, Miss Joan Williams, Mrs. L. Mayhew, and Miss Bingley; with one vacancy on the staff also.

LODGEPOLE SCHOOL MOVED.

The four classrooms which comprised the former Lodgepole School have been moved about half a block north and a little east. The four classrooms have been arranged into two sections, with a new addition being put in which will about double the floor space; the new section is being built between the two previous sections to form one unit of the whole.

Washroom facilities, a science room and an additional classroom is being built by an Edmonton Contractor. Total value of the permit for the job was in the neighborhood of $140,000. It is expected the new school will be able to take care of at least 150 pupils.

Pan American Petroleum Corporation has also taken out a permit to install sewer and water connections for a mobile camp for their employees. Ten of these will be in the section of town across from the Town Hall and seven others will be near the location of Two M Service Station on the main highway. The company will install sewer and water hookups in all the mobile sites and will do landscaping. Each mobile unit will have to have plumbing facilities before they will be allowed to move into the park. It is expected that work will start immediately on telephone connections to Lodgepole.

KEN MASON'S COLUMN:

EDMONTON—Provincial Progressive Conservatives will be pinning their hopes in the next election on a 48 year old lawyer, W.J.G. (Gus) Kirby, the sitting member of the Legislature for Red Deer riding.

Whether Mr. Kirby can lead the Tories to victory in Alberta, or even to a sizeable gain in House representation, is anyone's guess at this point.

Of the five candidates running for the Conservative leadership at the party convention in Edmonton last week, Mr. Kirby was the obvious choice. From a performance standpoint, he's been the strongest PC member in the Legislature.

The question yet to be answered is whether he's well enough known or a politician of sufficient stature to swing a big vote behind the Conservative party when Albertans go to the polls again, probably next year.

At this point, the Tories don't look like much of a threat. Of course, a lot depends on how much of John Diefenbaker's popularity and influence remain at the time of the next election.

Social Crediters we've spoken to say they aren't too worried about the Conservatives right now. They were worried earlier, when there was talk of the Tories drafting either Art Smith MP for Calgary, or Agriculture Minister Douglas Harkness, to lead the provincial party. Had that happened, one high Socred official said, the Conservatives could be a real threat.

Even though the possibility of a sweep is being discounted, the Conservatives should pick up a few more Legislature seats. The Tories have their first provincial leader in more than 20 years, and this should mean a stronger organization to drum up votes.

At their convention here the Conservatives passed a flock of resolutions which will go toward making up the party's platform. One of them said the oil and gas dividend legislation should be removed from the statute books.

Others dealt with municipal finance, highway construction, closer integration of health services, land, forest and game conservation, improvements in the province's education program, crop insurance and changes in labour laws to raise minimum wage rates and improve labour-management negotiations.

On highways, the Tories say most main and secondary roads are "below the standard" that gives satisfactory service and steps should be taken immediately to rectify this condition.

The convention also had some things to say about the public works department. A resolution called for "re-vamping and streamlining to eliminate waste and duplication and to provide proper co-ordination with other government departments in preliminary planning, employing of competent staffed personnel and outside technical advice and adequate preparation of detailed plans and specifications."

Now that the Tories have got themselves a leader, they'll be concentrating on building up a strong organization to prepare for the next election.

The next development will be the naming of a Liberal leader to replace Harper Frowse. Here, a lot depends on the strength and stature of the man chosen to head the Liberals. Once the man is selected late in the fall, it will give a better picture of how the political battles will turn out next year.

LITTLE THINGS MEAN A LOT -- There was more evidence last week that Social Credit feels it will have to wage a really strong battle to get back into office.

Education Minister Anders O. Aalberg announced that, as of next year, Ukrainian language will be offered as an optional course in Alberta high schools. Looking at this realistically, it's quite obvious that the move will bring a good many votes from the sizeable Ukrainian-Canadian population in Alberta.

There's no denying that Ukrainian language instruction will be a valuable addition to the curriculum, but look for argument in some quarters to the effect that there are other more important things the schools could be doing.

PLEASE THE PUBLIC -- An interesting sidelight on Premier Manning's five-year plan came out at the Conservative convention last week. Leadership candidate Alan Lazerte, Edmonton, said the plan was based on the results of a public opinion survey carried out by Social Credit. How he learned about the survey hasn't been determined, but government sources confirm that it was carried out. However, they say, Lazerte had many of the questions and answers wrong.

DRAYTON VALLEY HIGHLIGHTS,

EASTFORD NEWS:

BY: Ines Oscar.

On Tuesday, August 26, V. Ball sold 3 acres of land to the Alberta Government for a bridge on the Pembina. It is understood that the bridge will be built this winter. It will be straight west of the Eastford Corner, about a mile from the present crossing.

Mr and Mrs Pete Lundmark of Wetaskiwin are visiting friends in the district this week. Pete was pleased to hear of the proposed bridge as he still owns land west of the river which he homesteaded in the early '30's. He has not been able to get over to see it for some time.

There has been increased oil activity in this area since the lease sale of July 22. Mic Mac-Hayfair are now drilling their third well of the 6 they have prepared. Luscar Colas have surveyed 8 wells and are drilling. Further east on Section 25-49-SW, Superstee is clearing number of wells and have a rig drilling. Most of these wells are on occupied land.

Over 40 members of the Hutchinson family were gathered at the old home place last Sunday. In addition to members of the family who live in this area there were Florence, (Mrs Harold Nerassen) and family, of Hobbaford, Mr and Mrs H.
Nerassen, and Mr and Mrs Ole Branes, of Ryley.

BOY SHOTS CAT: Young Allan Oscar acci-dently shot his pet cat in the head
last week while carrying a loaded 22.
The next day the cat came back, not seriously injured. Allan no longer carries a rifle.

Mr and Mrs Leo Litke of Jasper Park visited at A. Litke's on Sunday. Don Terry remained behind when they left and will visit his cousins for a week.

Other old timers back for a look at their homestead and to see friends were Mr and Mrs R. Chamberlain and son Lawrence, of Edmonton. The Chamberlains own the farm on which is built the Gas Compressor station site #4.

HERE AND THERE.

Five new houses will be ready for occupancy in a few days. The houses are for Goliad employees and are being built by Alliance Construction Company.

John Ewanic, accompanied by his wife and friends from Edmonton, plans to take off for a week of fishing in B.C.'s Kootenai's.

Visiting with her son, Curtis Harris, in Lodgepole was Mrs. Daisy Harris, and daughter Fatsy Harris, aged 7. They returned recently to their home at Cardline, near Innisfail.

Granddad and Grandma Harris, Curtis' grandfather and grandmother, recently celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary in Kelowna, B.C.

Another Displaced Person from Manitoba was in our midst recently when Mrs. Olive Horan, of Winnipeg, came here to visit her sister, Mrs. Glen Robertson. Mrs. Horan claims to be on the staff of the Winnipeg branch of the F.B.I. investigating Alberta sausages.

Fred Cross recently took some of his sweat-stained money to buy a lovely house in Edmonton. The family will live there and Fred will commute between there and Campton Corner. The house is in the new Lynwood district.

The George Mohn family of Drayton Valley recently visited Saskatoon where Mr Mohn's parents, Mr and Mrs Chris. Mohn, were celebrating their fiftieth wedding anniversary. They live at Birch Hills, Sask.

Mrs. Margo Meier returned from vacationing at Atholmer, B.C. She drove back. Chere and took the kids with her, while the old man stayed home to make the money for her to go on.

In Janet's Beauty Shop is a list which includes: Love, Fat, Tough and Glow, etc. One was listed as "Build Up", but we did not see any listed as "Let Down".

"Dwells there a man upon this earth, who is deemed of so little worth.... That he never got a chain letter"

A recent one told the old standby of chain letters: General George (Old Dad and Guts) Patton received $8,000, but lost it because he broke the chain. We forgot to send it within the specified 24 hours, so are still wondering what wonderful thing would have happened if we had sent it.

Mrs. Hamilton and Billy were recent visitors to Winnipeg.

Miss Margaret Watson, sister to Mrs. Du-ley Edwards, of Rocky Rapids, visited over the weekend.

SCHOOL OPENS WITH LARGE REGISTRATION

Drayton Valley Schools got under way, along with almost all other schools in the province the day after Labor Day. If first-day enrollment in any indication the 1958-59 school year in Drayton Valley promises to be a sell-out success, at least so far as attendance is concerned.

The Elementary School enrollment was approximately 560 students in the grades from 1 to 6. Principal of the Elementary School is Mr. John Gray, former principal for the Entwistle School.

The classes and their teachers follow in the following list, although some of the assignments may be changed later.

There are at present three Grade One classes with a fourth one almost certain to be added a little later. In Grade One, teachers are, Miss Mary Judge, of New Zealand, Miss B. Ringley, of the United Kingdom, Miss B. Gittens, also of the U.K.

In Grade Two is Mrs. G. Palmer, one of last year's teachers, Mrs. A. Kupchenko, who has also taught in Drayton Valley before, Miss Joan Williams, a local girl, Mrs. M. Bullen, who has taught here previously and Mrs. L. Bayless, a local woman, are teaching the third grade.

In fourth grade Mrs. E. Lewinskiuk, of the Rocky Rapids district is teaching, Mrs. Lewinskiuk also taught in Drayton Valley previously. The other Grade four teacher is Mrs. E.J. Kosbernish, of Redwater.

Grade Five has enrolled Mrs. Wollschlaeger former teacher and principal of the Violet Grove School, Mrs. Zetta McKee, who taught here last year as Miss Zetta Brown, and Miss C. Fedorus, of Wetaskiwin.

Grade Six pupils are taught by Miss Vera Kos, of Moon Lake, one of last year's teachers, Mrs. E. Brown who also taught last year, and Mr. John Gray.

Two other teachers have joined the staff since the first registration day, but have not yet been assigned to their classes permanently, they are Mrs. Lammeyer, of Drayton Valley and Mr. Robert Christensen, of Stony Plain.

Enrollment in Grade One stands at 115 at present, and it is expected that quite a large number of youngsters will register yet for the first grade.

The High School Principal is Mr. Tom McManus, who was principal of the Elementary School previously, he was also principal for Junior High last year. This year the division has been made between Elementary and High at the Seventh Grade. Mrs. Glass is vice-principal.

Teachers are Mrs. Arkinstall, who taught here last year and Miss E. Holmes, of Evansburg, in the Seventh Grade.

The two Grade Eight classes are taught by Mr. R. Murray, of St. Paul and Mr. F. Oymaluk; Registration for Grade Eight is 45, with 72 registered in Grade Seven.

Grade Nine teachers are Mrs. A. Glass and Mr. W. Glass, a mother and son team from Rocky Rapids. Mrs. Glass has taught here for a number of years. Billy Glass taught last year in Brantford. There are 18 students enrolled in Grade Nine.

High School teachers are Mr. McManus, Mr. V. Kupchenko and his son, Mr. Olie Kupchenko and Mrs. Peggy Tyler. All of these have taught in Drayton Valley before. Enrollment in Grade Ten is 35, in Grade Eleven 35 and in Grade Twelve 15.

On the opening day of School both Mr. Maddock, Chairman of Stony Plain School Division Board and Mr. Hannock, Superintendent of the Division were on hand to discuss plans for the building of four more classrooms to join the two present buildings together. Construction is due to start at once.
